The Messrs. Barr, of Renfrew, who have been visiting this district for the past few days, started east on Friday's train. They expressed themselves as being very well pleased with the country, and say that there are some prospects of immigration from their neighborhood.

FREE PRESS, July 18: "What is the matter with the Manitoba hen? Yesterday a shipment of two carloads of eggs went through over the C. P. R., from Toronto to British Columbia. Eggs have sold this summer at some points in Manitoba as low as 4 cents a dozen and there does not appear to be any reason why a trade between the prairie and the mountain province should not be opened up." This is a pointer to Edmonton in the sending of a commercial agent to British Columbia.

R. Secord went to Winnipeg on Tuesday's train.

St. Dunning arrived from Red Deer on Thursday's train.

The steamer Athabasca reached the Landing from Grand Rapids on Monday last. The water was at a good stage.

C. Brindley, of South Edmonton, is having a mining scow built by J. Walter, the motive power of which will be steam.

Work has commenced on the grading of Jasper avenue, west from the H. B. store to the town limits. Six or eight teams are at work.

Messrs. McNamara and McDermott are building a mining scow for use on the Saskatchewan. It will be completed in two or three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Henry, Miss Battick and Mrs. Grieson went to Cooking lake to-day to join Rev. G. W. Dean and party of campers.

The Edmonton creamery will ship two and a quarter tons of butter to the coast on to-morrow's train. This is the creamery's second shipment.

Dr. McInnis leaves for Regina on to-morrow's train accompanying Moosewa, foot racer, and S. B. McNamara, bicyclist. The foot race and four bicycle races will take place on Saturday next.

S. D. McInnis, an Edmonton old timer who was last heard of at Battleford by his Edmonton friends, and it was feared had joined the majority, was heard from at Brandon by relatives in December last.

Chas. Whitford, of Menawa, is in town. The weather is very dry at Egg lake. Very little rain all summer. Joseph Cardinal and Maggie Sinclair, of Menawa, were married last week by Rev. E. B. Glass.

Mrs. Savoyard and children came up from Mackenzie river to the Landing on the recent trip of the Athabasca. Mr. Savoyard is retiring from the H. B. service and is acting as pilot on the Roman Catholic mission steamer on Great Slave lake on his first trip this season before starting south.

A sample of mustard was pulled yesterday from a field in Clover Bar settlement. A certain yellow weed which is very abundant in many fields near Edmonton is not mustard, although wherein it is not just as bad is not apparent. At any rate farmers will do well to on the look out that the real mustard weed does not get the start of them.

Calgary Tribune: The train from the North last night did not arrive until after 12 o'clock, the cause of the delay being the rank growth of weeds on the track. The wet weather has caused the weeds to fall over the rails so thickly that it is very difficult for the engine to force its way through them.

The Baptist Sunday school will hold its annual basket picnic at Groat's grove on Friday next. Free buses will run from the church to the grounds at intervals beginning at 9:30 a. m. and the last at about 2:00 p. m., for the accommodation of the school and friends who wish to attend. Arrangements are being made for a pleasant outing on that occasion.

P. Brunette had his left arm badly injured on Saturday. He was driving Wm. Pierce's portable engine from Edmonton to Fort Saskatchewan and in crossing a small bridge near the Horse Hill the engine upset. Brunette was pinned to the ground by the weight of a part of the engine on his arm which is badly bruised, but no bones are broken. He was brought to Edmonton for medical attention.

The first article in the first partly home printed issue of the Edmonton Herald is devoted to the political views of the editor of the BULLETIN. This fact coupled with the statement made in the salutatory of the same issue, that the Herald was started as a purely business enterprise, leads to the belief that the business idea of the Edmonton offspring, like that of the Calgary parent, is to use its political influence as its business capital. It remains to be seen whether such large, soft, juicy, and altogether delectable political suckers can be caught in Edmonton as in Calgary. But perhaps now that Alberta remains a single constituency the Calgary victim pays for the whole show.

FRANK HERON, H. B., officer in charge of Fort Wrangle on the Mackenzie river arrived on Friday by way of the Landing, accompanied by Mrs. Heron and family. Mr. Heron is on his way to Winnipeg to place one of his children at school. Fort Wrangle is about 150 miles north of Fort Simpson on the Mackenzie. The Indians of that vicinity hunt from Great Bear lake on the east to Dease lake west of the Rockies. Last winter was mild and there was plenty of food but there was a good deal of sickness amongst the Indians. Mr. Heron came up by the steamers Wrigley, Grahame and Athabasca and leaves for the east on to-morrow's train. He is originally from the Ottawa valley, but his grandfather was in the Hudson's Bay Co's service and was at one time in charge at Edmonton.

F. D. Wilson, in charge of the H. B. post of Vermilion, Peace river, arrived from the north on Friday. Mr. Wilson was chief clerk in the H. B. store at Edmonton for a number of years. He left Vermilion on June 25th and came down Peace river by boat to "The Chutes," 60 miles below Vermilion where he met the H. B. steamer Grahame. Taking the steamer he came down the Peace river to Chipewyan and up the Athabasca to Fort McMurray. Thence by row boat to Grand Rapids and from Grand Rapids to the Landing by the H. B. steamer Athabasca. The past winter was mild at Vermilion and the spring dry up to the time he left. Crops were progressing fairly well and had not been injured by frost but would probably be light. Cattle wintered well last winter. The H. B. Co. keep a large herd of cattle which includes fifteen milking cows. Bishop Young, of Athabasca, was at "The Chutes," on his way to Vermilion when Mr. Wilson left. The Church of England mission there is conducted by Rev. Mr. Scott with Mr. Warwick conducting the mission school. At Chipewyan the new steamer being built for the Roman Catholic mission by Capt. Boyd, was being planked. Mr. Wilson is on his way to Toronto to visit his mother whom he has not seen for fifteen years.

The river rose slightly this week but is falling again.

The concrete of the foundation of the new school building is being laid.

The C. P. R. has given a rate of $4 a ton on hay from Manitoba to Ontario.

Mrs. Wm. Anderson and her son, S. W. Anderson, left for Regina on Friday.

C. W. Mathers went to Cooking lake on Saturday to take views of Koney Island.

BRACKMAN & KEE's elevator in South Edmonton is completed as far as the outside work is concerned.

The municipalities of Westbourne and Lansdowne in Manitoba have abandoned the statute labor system.

A sample of rhubarb was left at the BULLETIN office on Thursday by Mrs. H. Goodridge. The leaf is 16 feet around.

A BELL organ costing $500 and having two banks of keys, has been purchased for the Presbyterian church. The choir has undertaken the purchase.

Received last week by the BULLETIN from Toronto, the freight charge is $10.39. And yet people stand off the publisher and wonder why he doesn't get rich.

The members of the W. C. T. U. have been requested to place a box on or near the "Water Barrel" to receive contributions towards its maintenance. The proceeds will be used to furnish extra supplies of ice and water.

R. Logan, of Beaver lake, was in town on Friday having come up from Wetaskiwin where he had been delivering cattle sold to J. Lineham. Mr. Lineham received 60 head of cattle from the Beaver lake settlement. The weather has been dry at Beaver lake this season, but still crops are looking fairly well. There are not as many new settlers arriving as last year.

A post card received from H. H. Lawrence, dated from Hart river, between Slave lake and Peace river on June 10th, says: "We arrived here on the 6th, eleven days from the Landing. Had a good trip, but extra low water on the Slave river. There were great fires along the Slave river which sometimes caught on the boat when passing. Hay seems to be a heavy crop all through this country. We have seen no farm crops as yet. Late news from Vermilion is encouraging and satisfactory. Spring early and crops looking well. Water is high on the Peace and there are many fires. Weather dry and hot."

JOHN Groat and Norman Lauder have returned from the Pembina at Lac la Nonne, to which place they had taken out a party bound to the Athabasca to mine. The party were: T. G. Lauder, G. Thomson, C. Griffin, and W. Carruthers. A party of five, amongst whom were brothers named Martin from South Edmonton, had gone down the Pembina the day before their arrival, and another party of six were already at the Pembina making ready to go down. They met a party of half breeds of St. Albert, who had just come up from the Athabasca where they had worked seven days. One man showed a piece of gold worth $8, the result of a day's work. One of the men had $60 worth with him. The party had left on account of the high water and after putting up hay at Lac la Nonne would return when it was expected the water in the Athabasca had fallen. A man named Cooper and three others had gone across the Pembina, intending to follow the pack trail to Fort Assiniboine with four carts. A Coghlan also rafted across the Pembina with a wagon and two carts bound for Fort Assiniboine.

THE FREE PRESS.

The Manitoba Free Press has been so long one of the most prominent institutions of Western Canada that anything affecting its conduct or fortunes is of public interest. For something like twenty-three years it has been the leading medium for the interchange of news and opinions between Manitoba and the rest of the world. That it fulfilled its mission to an ideal degree for many years every one knows. Then a change came; a change which was significant of the power of the railway company which had been called into existence expressly—so the world was informed—for the benefit and development of the Northwest, and of the purposes for which that power has been and is being used—as far as the police are apart away from the original purpose of the company. Because the Free Press was then free it must be subjugated—and it was. Since that time it has been as good a newspaper as before. Its news has been lavish, early and accurate. Its editorial comments have in most cases taken the popular side. Although known to be under the control of the C. P. R. company it has carefully refrained from any course whereby it could be charged with being the organ or apologist of that company. It was enough that this at one time great exponent of public opinion could be kept muzzled on the most important question before the people of Manitoba and the Northwest. Its owners could well afford to give it full swing on all other questions if it kept silent on that. Indeed it was extremely good business on their part to have it introduce other questions and discuss them from any side, so long as the public attention was the more completely drawn away from the main point. The better newspaper the Free Press was made and the more its circulation could be increased the less room there was for the spread of papers which would advocate ideas contrary to the interests of the company. These tactics have been to a great extent successful and the public mind has ceased to dwell upon the position held by the company towards the Northwest. While the Free Press was being handled in this careful fashion the company was not idle in other directions and the paper which was started expressly to combat them, on their securing control of the Free Press, was soon taken in to the net. While the Free Press was nominally liberal the Nor'-Wester was nominally conservative—a Punch and Judy show set up to attract the attention of the people of Manitoba from the other operations of the proprietor. This game having gone on long enough, having produced the desired result, a change has been ordered, and the Free Press is to take still another stand. Just what that stand will be it is too soon to say. But whatever it may be the object is the same, namely to advantage the railway monopolists at the expense of the people of the Northwest. If the Free Press can influence public opinion either positively or negatively at the forthcoming elections, so that the company can retain even one unjust cent a bushel on their freight rates, they will have received an ample return for their expenditure on the Free Press and on its running mate. For be it remembered, Although in the first place the company invest their capital in the plant, it is the people by their patronage in subscriptions and advertisements that keep the paper in existence. The company can well afford to buy a paper if the public whose interests it is published to overthrow will keep it going by their patronage. It is an open secret that this fact has been recognized by so many people in Manitoba and the Northwest already, notwithstanding the excellence of the Free Press as a newspaper, that the company find more of the burden of supporting it laid upon their shoulders than they like to bear, and now that the case seems to be less urgent than it was a year ago, they propose to save expense. The change of politics by the Free Press in all probability means the early suspension of the Nor'-Wester, and that even the semblance of an advocacy of popular rights will be dropped by the successor to the name Free Press.

A newspaper besides collecting and distributing news is also necessarily to a greater or less degree an exponent and a moulder of public opinion. Now public opinion cannot be measured by the yard or bushel nor can it be weighed by the ounce or by the ton. Like the great forces of nature it is invisible and can only be measured by its results. Public opinion is the court of last resort at which all matters concerning public administration or private affairs are finally decided, and a newspaper is of value to the private citizen, the monopolist or the politician just in so far as it can influence public opinion in the direction which each desires. The great Winnipeg dailies by reason of their position and standing are in a better position to influence public opinion in the Northwest than any other agency. It was the peculiarly good position and standing of the old Free Press that made it the main object of attack by monopolists. If it is worth money to the monopolist to influence public opinion through a newspaper, it is worth just as much to the individuals whose interests the monopolist hopes to prejudice by the agency of the newspaper. If the monopolist has secured control of the great city papers it is for the individual in his own protection to defend himself, not by supporting the monopolists' organ, but by supporting the independent local press wherever such exists. It is worth money at all times to the private citizen or the community to have his or their public interests fairly advocated before the court of public opinion, just as it is worth money to the monopolist to have his interests advocated before the same court. And if the great advocate cannot be secured or cannot be depended upon then the next best thing should be done and the lesser local advocate taken whose statement of the case might not be so far reaching but might be proportionately more effective within its lesser range of influence. Local newspapers throughout Manitoba and the Northwest standing squarely for the public right would destroy the influence of the C. P. R.'s Winnipeg purchases.

The Calgary Herald, which made such a blackguardly attack upon the half breeds of Northern Alberta a short time ago, now seeks to use Peter Erasmus to support its position as dishonestly as in its former article it did Rev. Father Lacombe. It quotes from a letter by Mr. Erasmus to prove the truth of its assertion that the half breeds of Lac la Biche are "poverty stricken, ignorant, shiftless, superstitious and cheerfully immoral," and that in these matters "they are fairly representative of other half breed settlements in Northern Alberta." The only trouble with the Herald's argument is that there is nothing in the quotation which it gives to lead to the supposition either near or remote that Mr. Erasmus agrees with it as to its facts (except that many of these half breeds are poor, and are ignorant—of farming) and much less to its conclusion, namely that they are of such a debased character that they either should not be allowed to exist at all or should not be allowed to exist as free citizens. So far from Mr. Erasmus agreeing to the confiscation of the fishery privileges hitherto enjoyed by these half breeds—which is the policy of the government and in support of which policy the Herald's article was written—the whole tenor of his letter as far as the Herald has quoted it is a demand for greater recognition of the rights of the half breeds, so that instead of their condition being made worse by the action of the government it shall be improved. It also brings to its support a letter anonymously signed "Non com," the writer of which declares on his own personal observation at Lac la Biche that the facts are as stated in the Herald's first article. If "Non Com," had signed his own name the public would have known better what value to put on his evidence. And yet when he is afraid or ashamed to let people know who he is, the public need not be at a loss. He evidently does not wish to be held to account for what he says, or in other words he does not believe it himself. A false witness brought forward by the government's organ to swear away the livelihood of men whose first offence is that they are poor and the next that they are using something that some government pet wants.

It is a peculiar thing in Manitoba politics that the Nor'-Wester newspaper spends a great deal of time in declaring that the construction of the Northern Pacific railway into Manitoba did not give that province railway competition, and yet spends a great deal more time in demanding the construction of the Hudson's Bay railway as a means of securing railway competition; without having any more guarantee of competition in the one case than in the other.

THE FREE PRESS SHUFFLE.

Winnipeg Tribune, July 23.—"Mr. Molyneux St. John has relinquished editorial charge of the Free Press, which he has held for the past two years.—Free Press of this morning."

The retirement of Mr. St. John was what was looked for in view of the change of policy announced by the Free Press a few days ago. It is stated that Mr. J. B. Somerset will act in the general capacity of managing editor and business manager. His name remains at the head of the editorial column as business manager, but his duties are enlarged by Mr. St. John's retirement, as a successor will not be appointed. Mr. St. John leaves in a few days for the east, where he will take up his permanent residence.

THE H. B. RAILWAY.

The following are the proceedings in the house of commons regarding the H. B. railway which delayed prorogation:

In the house of commons on Saturday afternoon, after the clause permitting the change of route in the Winnipeg and Great Northern was struck out and the house went into committee on the bill, Laurier moved an amendment providing that the subsidy should be diminished by $640 per mile for any part of the road not operated for freight and passenger traffic, and that if the whole line to be operated the entire subsidy should cease and the government's liability be at an end. This, he said, was in the direction of what was stated by White (Caldwell).

The amendment was lost on division.

The bill as amended merely provides that if the company does not build from the end of the line then the government can give to another company the $40,000 subsidy from Gladstone to Lake Dauphin.

The bill was read a third time.

The bill now authorizes the dividing up of the subsidy aid of $80,000 a year for 20 years into two halves, one for each half of the road, and extending the time for completion until 1898, three years from now.

This last bill passed, went to the senate at 4:15 o'clock. Here McInnis, of Hamilton, a conservative, moved the three months' hiatus, and it is said it would have carried then, a majority of senators being against the bill, but a debate ensued, Scott supporting the bill. He said it was reported, but he would not believe truly, that the proposed loan of $2,500,000 was to have been shared by the government for election purposes.

Bowell indignantly repudiated any such hoodluming and chastised Scott strongly for daring to mention it.

At 5:30, the hour His Excellency had set for proroguing parliament, the debate was still in progress, and ministers from the house of commons came over, and a sort of cabinet council was held in the cloak room. A message was sent to Rideau Hall, asking the governor general not to come up until 6 o'clock. Military officers, aides, guard of honor, the general public, all the accessories of prorogation, were on hand.

At 6 o'clock Premier Bowell announced that the government had decided not to prorogue, and the soldiers and citizens went away, feeling that they had been fooled. Never before has prorogation been deferred after it was once officially announced.

The senate met again in the evening, and after further debate McInnis' hoist was defeated by 7 to 11, only 18 senators voting. A few absent themselves. The motion for a first reading carried, and the second reading will be moved at 10 o'clock tomorrow.

GENERAL NEWS.

A young girl died recently at Vernon, B. C., from the bite of a rattlesnake.

Nearly 4,500 horses have been shipped from Montreal to England this season.

James Taylor was drowned while fording the White Sand river in Eastern Assiniboia on July 8th.

The Langevin traffic bridge across the Bow at Calgary, is being undermined at the south pier by the current.

Mrs. Laird, wife of the first lieutenant governor of the Northwest, died recently at her home in Charlottetown, P. E. I.

The assessment roll of Lethbridge for 1895 amounts to $1,099,740, and the rate of taxation has been fixed at 10 1/2 million the $.

The Calgary correspondent of the Free Press mentions that Alex. Lucas, at one time mayor of Calgary, is returning to Ontario to reside.

It has been decided that the Craig's road disaster on the Grand Trunk railway in Quebec was caused by the engineer having become drowsy from drinking ale.

Free Press: Hay is selling for $12 a ton in Ontario now, with every prospect of reaching $20 before the season is over. Hay can be bought in Manitoba for $4 a ton. There seems to be a good spec shiping it east. The freight is likely the principal consideration.

Free Press, July 23: Dr. Wilson, mayor of Edmonton, and Father Lacombe, left for Ottawa at noon to interview the government on the question of assistance for the new bridge to be built across the Saskatchewan, at a cost of $90,000. The bridge will connect the north and south towns.

Five children all of one family named Beech and ranging from 4 to 15 years of age, were drowned in Lake Dauphin, Manitoba, on Sunday, July 14th. The children got into a leaky boat for a short row and were driven from shore by the wind. The boat filled with water and the children were drowned.

The following comment from the Montreal Trade Review explains what is a mystery to many, namely how a bank can lend money at 8%, and pay 12% dividend: "The Banque du Peuple has been compelled to suspend because of the withdrawal of its deposits. Of these it held $1,100,000 payable on demand, in customers' credit balances, and $5,800,000 in money placed at interest, payable after notice. The total of these sums was equal to the total of its current loans. That is to say, one section of the people lent the bank some seven millions of money, which was borrowed by another section. On those borrowings the active, current, daily business of the country depends for its very existence. Were the deposits in our banks withdrawn the trade of this country would be destroyed, as they constitute the vast bulk of the resources which give vitality to trade, which, practically, form the capital of the nation's enterprises."

Winnipeg Commercial, July 20th: "The annual summer fair of the Winnipeg Industrial exhibition association brought a good many merchants to the city, and led to some increase in business, but this was to some extent offset by the unfavorable weather and rumors of damage to the crops. There is now an increased feeling to await the result of the harvest before placing heavy fall and winter orders. Cattle exports continue to increase. Bank clearings at Winnipeg this week show an increase of about 19 per cent. as compared with the corresponding week a year ago. Butter and cheese shipments eastward are increasing, and this week include the first car of cheese shipped direct to England from Manitoba."

The liquidators of the Commercial bank have declared another dividend of 37 per cent to claimants against the bank.

The prorogation speech at the close of parliament on Monday contains the following: The reply of the provincial legislature of Manitoba to the remedial order issued by my government on March 31 last was considered to be of such a character as to justify a postponement of further action until next session.

Winnipeg Nor-Wester July 23: The prospects of the wheat harvest in Minnesota and North Dakota, which a short time ago were so bright and cheering, are entirely changed. The heavy rains in the Red river valley, have it is stated, ruined many thousands of acres of wheat which promised to yield a heavy return.

According to the Toronto World, Mr. H. A. Massey is now one of the leading spirits in connection with the Consumptive Hospital movement, having agreed to contribute an amount equal to that promised by Mr. Gage, provided the hospital is located in the neighbourhood of Toronto, which, the World says, has been decided on.

Winnipeg Tribune July 22: Several gentlemen who arrived in the city on Sunday evening bring news of barley cutting in the country. The points at which this early start has been made are the Monnoir reserve and the Red river valley between St. Jean and Letellier. Despite the damp weather, fields of barley are turning in color, and cutting will be general next week in many sections.

Winnipeg Nor-Wester: "Our harvest is not reaped yet, and there may be earthquakes or a deluge. But according to the best judgment, based on data that are everywhere regarded as legitimate and reliable, 22,000 farmers of Manitoba will this year produce 60,000,000 bushels of grain from 1,887,706 acres. This will give an average production of 2,727 bushels per farm, or within a fraction 32 bushels per acre."

A Montreal despatch of July 22nd, says: The Banque Du Peuple will be able, it is thought, to pay off their circulation inside of sixty days. After this a fund will be accumulated for the payment of depositors. Mr. A. De Martigny, cashier of the Jacques Cartier bank, and Mr. Warwick Chipman of the Montreal clearing house take hold of the bank's affairs. This move was decided upon at a recent meeting of the directors. Mr. De Martigny said that it would probably be a matter of six weeks before statement would be prepared. Even when this is done the two gentlemen's work will not be completed as they have arranged to devote three months' time to the bank's affairs.

Vancouver correspondence of Winnipeg Commercial, July 15th: The condition of trade in British Columbia is about the same as last week, although industrial activity at many points is more conspicuous than at any time in the history of British Columbia. A special article would have to be devoted to the new mining and lumber enterprises of the past ten days, whilst another column could be devoted to the active preparation for the salmon pack and the frozen salmon industry. Prices generally continue strong and the outlook for fall trade is exceptionally favorable. A large number of people from Vancouver travelled twelve miles by tram to Westminster to trade at the city market this week. They paid $5 doz. for fowls and 30c. for new laid eggs. Butter sold at 30c. by the roll, and if as good an article could be sent here from Manitoba it would sell at the lowest calculation at 25 and 26c. in large quantities. Vegetables are a drug on the market. New potatoes sold at $1.50 per hundred pounds.

The following is the telegraphic account of the cause of the Indian rising in Idaho: On July 21st thirty men left Jackson's Hole to arrest all the Indians breaking the game laws of Wyoming. In Hoback canyon they surprised a camp of Indians and took them all prisoners and started with them for Jackson's Hole. In the canyon they tried to escape and all the Indians were killed. One hundred and thirteen fresh elkskins were found in the camp. John N. Carnes, a squaw man, and the oldest settler of Jackson's Hole, has gone over into Idaho. He says every settler in Jackson will be butchered. There were 300 Banock warriors on the Hoback river when Carnes was there, and he says all the squaws have been sent away and that all the bucks were daily joining the main band. Jackson's Hole settlers are now entrenched awaiting any attack. Unless the cavalry gets there quickly every settler between Jackson's Hole and this railway station is in danger of massacre.

GOLD DREDGE.

The gold dredge which has been in course of construction for the past couple of weeks on the flat above the H.B. fort was launched successfully on Saturday afternoon in the presence of a considerable number of spectators. The boat is 35 x 24 feet and 4½ feet in depth. It is of very solid construction, the sides and ends being built of 6 x 6 inch pieces bolted together from top to bottom and also bolted to uprights. At the work-end the scow is square and at the other end it is sloped so as to make it easier to tow against the current. In the centre of the sloped end and at each corner of the dredge end are heavy posts which partly support the crane and the building on the scow and partly are used to guide three spuds or sliding posts which by being lowered to the bottom of the river hold the scow firmly in place while at work. The motive power is supplied by a 65-horse power boiler and two engines, which work the dredge and also a duplex pump which will raise 700 gallons of water per minute with which to wash the gold. The dredge is shaped like a grocer's scoop but is of iron and is about three feet across. It will raise one and a half cubic yards of gravel at each lift. A crane works on the square end of the scow and from this crane the scoop is lowered to the bottom of the river and filled with gravel. It is then raised and the crane swings the scoop back over the scow and empties it into a dump box from which a sluice box 60 feet long runs to the other end of the scow. There are two grizzlies, one at each side, and the scoop dumps into each alternately. At the same time the water is being pumped on to the gravel to wash it from the gold. The machinery was formerly in use in an Ontario government dredge working on the Scourge river near Lindsay, Ont. The whole of the machinery fifteen tons. The scow was built by C. Racine, lately of Victoria, B. C. The launch occurred with only one hitch caused by one of the slides breaking so that one corner of the scow did not get afloat at once. Although it is so heavy it only took about six inches of water to float her, and when the machinery is placed and all completed, she will not draw more than two feet. When the machinery is fitted she will be worked experimentally in the neighborhood, and afterwards taken up the river to Livingstone's slough. The Ups and Minnow will be used to tow her and if they have not power enough she will wrap up herself. She is the enterprise of an Edmonton syndicate and is named the "Notre Dame de Mission," after a summer resort on the Lake St. John Railway in Quebec.

COWS AND BELLS.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

Is that nuisance, that pest, that mockery of bye-laws, the cow, never to cease in this most model and well regulated town of ours? Are people to be kept awake from three in the morning by the unceasing jangle of numberless discordant bells. Every bell of a different tone and each more exasperating than the other? Are people to have their fences broken, gardens trampled and destroyed without redress, and are they to supply these vagrant animals with the water which their owners turn them out to rustle for? If some of the superfluous steel displayed recently in the dog license question were transferred to the cow, good results might follow.

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

RED DEER.

Two brothers named Larsen were arrested near here on Saturday, July 20th, charged with stealing a hay rake. The rake was found on their premises. They were brought before Insp. Snyder on Tuesday, the 23rd. One pleaded guilty. Both were committed for trial and one was released on bail. The other was taken to Calgary to await trial there.

A severe hail storm occurred at Blind man settlement nine miles north of Red Deer a short time ago, and extended east to Buffalo lake and west to Burnt lake, destroying any crops that it struck. Fortunately it missed the principal settlements.

Fires west of the Medicine river made the air very smoky here for some time this season, but have been put out by recent rains.

F. E. Wilkins, ex-M. L. A. went to Regina on last train accompanied by his mother and sister.

STATUTE LABOR DISTRICTS.

The following statute labor districts have been proclaimed in the Edmonton country.

OVERSEER.
Township 49, range 25, R. Wilkinson.
Township 50, range 24.
Township 50, range 25.
Township 51, range 25, Chas. Black.
Township 51, range 1, west 5th J. B. Butchart.
Township 52, range 23, R. Dinwoodie.
Township 52, range 27, S. J. Eccles.
Township 52, range 1, west 5th.
Township 53, range 23, J. G. Ottewell.
Township 53, range 22, Arch. Bowd.
Township 53, range 27, D. Brox.
Township 54, range 24, J. Meneely.
Township 54, range 22, H. Irwin.
Township 54, range 21, A. Nelson.

Nearly all of these have completed their statute labor for the season. Others have been organized too late for statute labor this year.

The Free Press of Tuesday evening July 23rd has the following as to its position and that of its city rivals: The Tribune has long envied the position of the Free Press as the alleged organ of the C. P. R. and cloaks the feeling with an appearance of concern for the public welfare. To ally this feeling we say that the Free Press is not the organ of the C. P. R. nor of any other corporation or party. It does aspire to be the organ of Manitoba and the Northwest, as it was upon this policy the prestige it now enjoys has been secured. The position envied by the Tribune is vacant and it should act accordingly. The Nor-Wester affects to be the organ of the Conservative party here and apparently fears that it is about to be supplanted and sent to the grave it has hitherto avoided with such difficulty. It may avoid dissolution for a while yet or it may go the way of other abortive journalistic ventures; but its role will not be adopted by the Free Press and its fate will be a matter outside the concern of this paper.

METEOROLOGICAL.
